ClarkDietrich's Dallas facility recently partnered with CDH Custom Roll Form for a complete perimeter upgrade, and the results have been outstanding. ClarkDietrich Director of Operations Greg Mergy noted the remarkable transformation, citing both visual appeal and enhanced security as key outcomes.

"The difference this new fence has made is truly remarkable, both in terms of visual appeal and practical security for all our employees," Greg stated. "The old fencing was a major eyesore, but the new fencing is a significant upgrade."

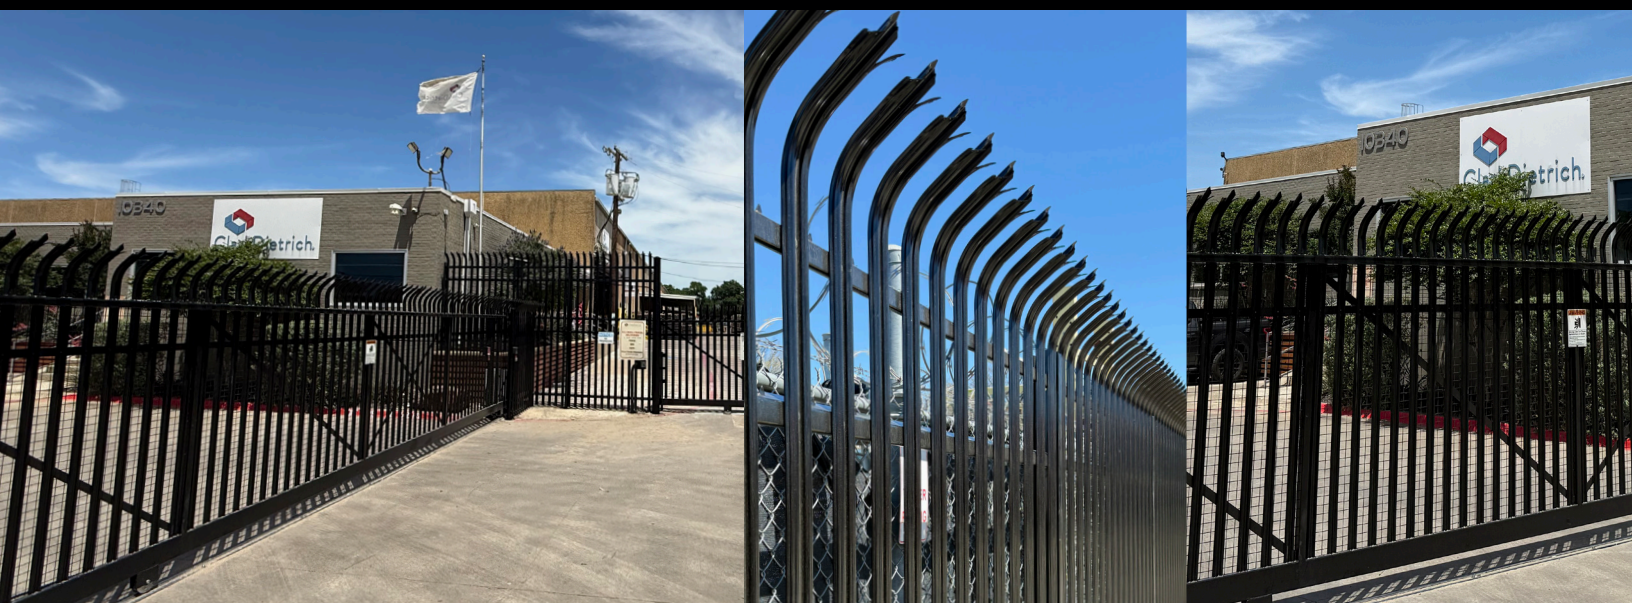

Since the installation, the facility has seen zero incidents of unauthorized access—no cutting, jumping or damage. This immediate improvement has allowed the company to significantly reduce on-site security personnel, delivering meaningful cost savings.

The Director of Operations emphasized the product's quality, the professionalism of the installation team and how easily CDH high-security palisade fencing was installed compared to competitive fencing products. CDH delivered a high-security solution without compromising curb appeal, and ClarkDietrich enthusiastically recommends CDH Security Fencing to other businesses prioritizing safety and presentation.
